You are using the WebLogic Diagnostic Framework (WLDF) to monitor your domain for certain scenarios based on runtime data of your running servers. Different groups are responsible for different aspects of the application.
As a result, your configuration must fulfill the following requirements:
* Notifications must be sent only to the correct group that is responsible for the respective part of the application.
* You must ensure that you can enable and disable monitoring for each level whenever it is needed.
How would you configure WLDF watches and notifications to achieve this result? (Choose the best answer.)
